

Titanium Varminter™ 2.0 in .223 & .308

Quietest Silencer on the market, or your Money Back! Who else is willing to make that offer? Tactical Target Shooter, Varmint Hunter, and Bench Rest shooter's DREAM.

Titanium tube and titanium end caps married with heat treated stainless steel baffle design. Utilizing a unique "outside of the box" baffle design which more efficiently channels additional heat from the gas blast to the proprietary titanium alloy tube in a masterful wicking effect. The proprietary baffle design and tube work synergistically to change the sound tone and more efficiently convert gas pressure energy to heat energy, creating the quietest silencer on the market, guaranteed. We own a military grade sound meter and have compared the Varminter™ 2.0 to other .223 & .308 silencers available on the market. (Bruel & Kjoer 2209 Sound Testing Meter).

Accuracy enhancing due to no welding, all parts of The Titanium Varminter™ 2.0 are custom fit together to ensure no stress factors which are created by traditional welding of other higher mass production silencers. Tube started as a solid titanium bar and was then machined down to increase tube thickness beyond standard available tubing, again working to pull heat from the blast quicker. Baffle structure started with a solid bar, CNC machined from proprietary corrosion resistant SS alloy for maintenance free use and limited lifetime warranty.

.223 – 5.56 mm Varminter™ 2.0 Data  (165 db on a Tikka T3 Varmint SS with no silencer and then 127 db with The Titanium Varminter™ 2.0) Length – 7.2” Diameter – 1.5” Weight – 16 oz Thread – ½” X 28 TPI Construction – Titanium tube and end caps & SS heat treated alloy baffles Finish – Standard Bead-blast & Black Price - $675 bead blast or $695 for Black	.308 – 7.62 mm Varminter™ 2.0 Data  (167 db on a Remington 700 with no silencer and then 135 db with The Titanium Varminter™ 2.0) Length – 9.2” Diameter – 1.5” Weight – 20 oz Thread – 5/8” X 24 TPI Construction – Titanium tube and end caps & SS heat treated alloy baffles Finish – Standard Bead-blast or Black Price - $830 bead blast or $850 for black
---	--

Manufactured by MACK BROTHERS (West River Rifle Company) in Sturgis, SD for South Dakota & North Dakota Silencer exclusively. This silencer design and conception began many years ago when the owner of South Dakota Silencer identified a void in the marketplace and worked closely with the Mack Brothers to create a silencer specifically for tactical target shooting, varmint hunting, and bench rest shooting at long distances where accuracy, sound reduction, recoil reduction, and weight on the end of the barrel were the most important factors. The Titanium Varminter™ 2.0 has become the best-selling silencer on the market in the Dakotas and plans are underway for rapid expansion to share this silencer with other gun owners across our great nation.

The Owners of Mack Brother, Allan & Dale Mack, have spent most of their lives’ in firearms manufacturing and come from an esteemed career with Dakota Arms. Mack Brothers (West River Rifle Company) has a long track record and are a multi-million dollar firearms manufacturing company manufacturing “higher end” tactical and firearms products for some of the largest firearms manufacturers in the US. Their tactical and firearms products are used by the US military, government agencies, and civilians. Their machine shop is high volume and state of the art; located within the Firearms Manufacturers’ Industrial Park in Western South Dakota. They also own and operate Horizon Machines and are a strategic business and manufacturing partner with Badger Ordinance.

Brandon L. Maddox, owner of South Dakota Silencer, is a registered pharmacist by trade with a passion for Varmint hunting and advanced silencer technology. After experimenting with silencers for varmint hunting in the western SD prairies, Brandon fell in love with the many benefits silencers bring to gun lovers. Brandon operates one of the largest silencer dealerships in the country and has sold thousands of silencers over the years to residents of the Dakotas and throughout the 39 states where silencer are legal. Brandon has sold silencers to government agencies for law enforcement utilization throughout the Dakotas as well. Brandon is passionate about silencers and has spent many years researching their effectiveness with his military grade sound meter testing equipment.

 Money Back within 30 days of transfer, reimbursement cannot exceed amount paid.